

Developmental Milestones: Social

Child offers or shows a toy to another child

These observations involve the following developmental skills:

- Initiation of social play
- Response to emotional & social cues
- Self-confidence
- Interactions with others

Developmental Milestones: Social

Child is beginning to find own play area or activity

These observations involve the following developmental skills:

- Curiosity and exploration
- Self-regulation
- Self-awareness
- Independence
- Confidence

Developmental Milestones: Social

Child is moving from parallel play to interacting with others

These observations involve the following developmental skills:

- Self-awareness
- Self-confidence
- Receptive and expressive language
- Interpersonal communication
- Trust; comfort
- Initiation of social play

Developmental Milestones: Social

Child begins to show interest/concern for others

These observations involve the following developmental skills:

- Self-confidence
- Respect and care for others
- Caring communication
- Developing empathy

Developmental Milestones: Social

Child begins to understand and follow classroom routines

These observations involve the following developmental skills:

- Self-awareness
- Community awareness
- School language (vocabulary)
- Interpersonal communication
- Memory
- Trust; safety

Developmental Milestones: Social

Child anticipates and participates in transitions

These observations involve the following developmental skills:

- Self-awareness
- Self-confidence
- Memory
- Community awareness
- School language (vocabulary)
- Interpersonal communication

Developmental Milestones: Social

Child begins simple symbolic play

These observations involve the following developmental skills:

- Self-awareness
- Receptive and expressive language
- Interpersonal communication
- Initiation of social play
- Imagination; fantasy play
- Response to emotional & social cues
- Self-confidence

Developmental Milestones: Social

Child watches or copies another child's behavior or activity

These observations involve the following developmental skills:

- Self-awareness
- Consistent focus/attention span
- Self-confidence
- Emotional & social responsiveness
- Memory